

No Truth In Bridge Report

Considerable consternation was aroused first of the week when a report went out that it was the intention of the County Road commissioners to have the Mc-Master bridge abandoned. This bridge crosses the AuSable river about five miles west of the mouth of the North Branch. The report even reached Detroit, Bay City and other places where there were parties vitally interested because of owning property near the bridge.

Investigation was made and Frank Barnett, a member of the Road commission, and James Knibbs, county superintendent, deny that that matter had ever come up before the Board, and that the Board had no intention of abandoning the bridge.

Asked if he believed that the McMaster bridge was safe, Mr. Barnett said that it was in good condition and safe for travel.

Just where the story started seems to be a mystery. Anyway, according to the best authority, the bridge will continue to serve the public. Without the bridge, people residing in that district would have to drive 24 miles to reach the opposite bank of the river. There are many fine clubs located on both sides of the river near the bridge.

MENU FOR GRANGE CHICKEN DINNER

The Grange is to give another of their popular chicken dinners at the Oddfellow temple Saturday, Jan. 9, to be served from 5:00 to 7:00 o'clock p. m. The members are making a drive for money to put into a building fund, so they may erect a hall in the near future in which to meet and hold their social affairs. They will appreciate a large attendance at their dinner Saturday.

Following is the menu, which sounds very good:

Fruit Cocktail
Chicken and Biscuits
Mashed Potatoes
Creamed Carrots

GEO. BURKE TOLEDO HOTEL PORTER

(From Toledo Blade)

There are stories in the paths of people through the world. The lower they start on the success ladder, and the higher they reach, the better the story. In the days when Mark Burnett ran the Burnett House, popular Toledo hostelry, one of the porters was George Burke. That was around 40 years ago. A Toledo Blade, spent the week-end at Grayling, Mich. There he found George Burke, the former Burnett House porter. He is one of the business leaders of the town, the representative of a popular motor car there for many years. And this year he was the town's big Santa Claus, giving away more than 2,000 bags of candies and such things to the little children of the Grayling community. Good for the ex-Burnett House porter.

It's hard to imagine George as a porter but we'll bet he made a good one. And that's not all George has done. While he never sailed the ocean blue, still he did sail the Great Lakes. That was great life, said George one day this week while talking with County Treasurer Bill Ferguson and this writer. And George chimed in and said that a sailor, besides having a girl in every port, had to know how to use his fists if he hoped to stay on the job. Bill agreed with him and a little pumping revealed that he too had sailed upon the waters. It was interesting to listen to these two old freshwater sailors tell of their sailor days experiences.

Circuit Court To Convene Tuesday

The January term of circuit court will convene next Tuesday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock with the newly elected judge, John C.

Shaffer on the bench for his first term in Crawford county.

A small calendar confronts him however on this occasion so no doubt the session will be very short one. Following are the cases to be disposed of, all of which are Chancery cases, the exception of a petition for naturalization of Mose Woods.

Chancery Cases

In the matter of the assignment for the benefit of creditors of Marius Hanson.

Enus Anderson vs. Nick Schjotz, petition.

Ivy Marlowe, petition for discharge of mortgage.

Clifford Knibbs vs. Florence Knibbs, divorce.

Harry Cottier, petition for discharge of mortgage.

Petition of the Crawford County board of supervisors regarding the water level of Lake Margrethe.

Ronnow Hanson To Sell License Plates

County Treasurer William Ferguson, who for the past 11 years has had charge of the selling of auto license plates in Crawford county, last week wrote Secretary of State Leon Case his resignation. Accordingly Mr. Case has appointed Ronnow Hanson to do the job.

Everyone who has had to purchase license plates knows that Bill has done a good job and deserves a lot of credit for the way he has handled this important work.

However the job is in good hands again and we know the public will heartily welcome Ronnow Hanson in the position of license clerk. He was born in Grayling and is well known to just about everyone. For several years past he has been our efficient Register of Deeds and was re-elected again in November with a large majority vote. His office is in the courthouse where license plate patrons will find him on the job prepared to continue the fine service we have had in the past. It's a busy job but carries with it a fair remuneration for the service.

MISS LULU MALONEN HONORED AT SHOWER

Being guest of honor at a party she was attending Monday evening was a genuine surprise to Miss Lulu Malonen. The affair was a bridal shower given by Mrs. Bernard Callahan at St. Mary's hall, and Miss Malonen was tricked into attending, being told there was a church party in progress. It was not until after lunch was served and she was presented with many daintily tied parcels that she realized the party was in her honor. And we doubt if she was any more thrilled than when she was chosen Grayling Winter Sports queen some years back.

During the evening some 25 gifts were distributed to the guests following a series of games. The lunch tables were decorated in a pink and white color scheme with favors of tiny candies in candy holders that were lighted. There were some 35 ladies present.

Miss Malonen will become the bride of Jack Callahan at a ceremony to be solemnized at St. Mary's church Tuesday morning, January 12.

NOTICE

Pay taxes now. After January 10th a penalty of 3% will be added. Winter taxes are due and payable at the City Office.

Love, Honor and Obey

Womans Club

The Woman's club met Monday, Jan. 4th, at the home of Mrs. Holger Schmidt.

An interesting talk was given on safety by Mrs. Fred Welsh, followed by an open discussion by the members of the club.

From the talk and discussion, members of the club found that the Christmas holidays brought tragedy instead of happiness to many people in the United States because of the disregard for safety and the law. Most of the traffic deaths should not be classed as accidents, but as carelessness. Three-fourths of the accidents were caused by drunken drivers. Anyone under the influence of alcohol should not drive a car, because they not only endanger their own lives but those of other people. Many accidents are also due to defects in car or poor tires.

Statistics show the city of Milwaukee as the leader in safety in the United States.

The next meeting of the club will be held Jan. 11th, at the home of Mrs. Fred Welsh.

HANSON CAFE ORGANIZES BASKET BALL TEAM

The Hanson Cafe basket ball team, under the sponsorship of Frank Bennett, has organized for the coming season. A meeting was held recently for the purpose of organizing. The following members were present at the meeting: May, Sorenson, Gothro, Dawson, Smock, Borchers, Hanson, Lovely, and Robertson. Mr. Bennett acted as chairman of the meeting and Robertson was elected to act as team manager.

Plans are being made to bring in some good basketball teams to play the Hanson Cafe here. Such teams as Cheboygan, Gaylord, Oscoda, Charlevoix, Mt. Pleasant, and other strong teams. With the addition of four members of last year's high school team, the Hanson Cafe will present one of the strongest quintets in northern Michigan.

The opening game will be played here on Tuesday, Jan. 12, with West Branch as the opponent. Come out and watch the boys in action.

The party was a great success and the Izaak Walton League have reason to be proud of their initial effort.

Kiwanians Dance At Shoppenagons Inn

Under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis club a dance, for members and their friends, was given at Shoppenagons Inn following the party at the school gym.

The party was given that, as a club, the members might exchange New Years greetings to each other on the eve of another club year.

The hotel dining room where the dance was given, was gay with multi-colored balloons festooned from the ceiling. Hats were passed out and the ladies and gentlemen of the club and their guests congratulated each other upon what seemed to be another successful year just beginning.

Lunch and breakfast were served to the guests before the party broke up.

Dancing Was In Swing At Spike's Gardens

Before New Years reservations had been made for dancing at Spike's and the place was filled to capacity throughout the evening. Decorations, appropriate for the occasion, were very attractive and the crowd danced to a good orchestra until the closing hour.

Watch Parties

Watch parties were also held by organizations and private individuals as the old year vanished and the New Year came in.

Grayling Folk Gay On New Year Eve

With three places to dance and many watch parties being given, old and young of our town folk waved farewell to 1936 and ushered in 1937.

Probably not since the depression have as many people rung out the old and rung in the new with so much enthusiasm as was shown Thursday night and Friday morning.

The Izaak Walton League sponsored a very pretty party at the school gym.

A group of young fellows, with Royal Wright as director, arranged the decorations giving the gym a warm, festive appearance. Streamers of blue and white were arranged from a small square in the center of the ceiling above the balcony, dropping to a larger square and then down to the floor of the balcony and ending in fans carried to the floor. Blue lighting effects were carried out above and around the festooned canopy.

A very clever miniature airlock log cabin had been built in the center of the right side of the dance floor, the front porch forming the orchestra pit for the Tom Donahue orchestra, of Detroit, whose music received very favorable comment from the guests during the evening.

At midnight the usual horns, caps and serpentine made 1937 feel most welcome as revelry and gaiety prevailed. At the midnight stroke, little Donna Kinnee, a perfect picture of little cupid, took her place in the orchestra pit and passed out confetti to the crowd.

The dance floor was comfortably filled throughout the evening with a very fine looking crowd of young people who seemed to catch the spirit of the occasion.

The party was a great success and the Izaak Walton League have reason to be proud of their initial effort.

LILLIAN AHMAN AND NYLAND HOUGHTON MARRIED

At 4:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Miss Lillian Ahman and Mr. Nyland Houghton spoke their marriage vows before Rev. Hans Junl at Danish Lutheran church. As the bride party entered the church Miss Agda Johnson rendered the wedding march and during the ceremony Mrs. June Underwood beautifully sang "I Love You Truly." Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ahman, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, were the attendants.

The bride looked very lovely in a floor length gown of yellow satin striped chifon with which she wore a brown jacket and close-fitting brown velvet hat and gold sandals. Her bridesmaid wore a pink lace gown made with a jacket and the skirt also touched the floor.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ahman, where covers were laid for fourteen.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Blanche Houghton and both are graduates of Grayling high school and are popular among their friends, of which they have many. Following a honeymoon in southern Michigan they will return to Grayling to make their home, and where they have congratulations and best wishes of their friends.

Kiwanians Hear City Manager

GEO. GRANGER GIVES RESUME OF LAST YEAR'S ACTIVITIES

The speaker at the Kiwanis club luncheon Wednesday was City Manager George Granger. He gave the members a clear mental picture of the work the city has done during the past year, showing the improvements and progress that have been carried out during 1936.

Many blocks of waterworks lines have been put in and many miles of streets built and improved. Construction of an addition to the fire hall for the city offices and library and for housing the fire department apparatus is among the improvements. A new modern fire engine has been purchased and it is expected that it will be delivered within a few days.

Two new members were added to the Kiwanis membership—Don Reynolds, local manager of the Michigan Public Service Co., and H. A. Fick, district manager of the federal resettlement administration.

Mr. Kilburn of Chicago and Sidney Dyer, supervisor of South Branch township were guests at the meeting.

THE LANGUAGE OF YOUR HAND

By Leicester K. Davis
© Public Ledger, Inc.

THE first, or nail joint of the thumb denotes the manner in which the will is used. It shows unmistakably whether its possessor is stubborn or easily influenced, impulsive or cautious. The formation of the first, or nail, joint, holds a wealth of information concerning the variations of the will.

The Strong and Stubborn Will.
The nail joint which indicates this temperamental trait also denotes a man or woman who cannot be budged once the mind has been made up to follow a given course of action. It is most notable in the rigidity of the joint when pressure is exerted to bend it backward toward the wrist, while any unexpected attempt to close the joint palmward meets with involuntary resistance. The nail joint of the stubborn thumb is usually of moderate length and inclined to be thickest. There is a marked absence of taper at the sides. If the joint appears to be extremely short, the will of its owner is often blindly unreasonable, acting upon conclusions which, even though faulty, are next to impossible to change. If with this combination the underside opposite the nail is bulging, or "clubbed," we have sure indication of self-will that may get its possessor into difficulties through failure to control a violent temper. If, however, the sides of an otherwise stubborn nail joint are clearly tapered, with the underside portion gracefully shaped, the stubbornness indicated is more likely to be confined to decisions, calm, though difficult to alter in business matters.

Remember the old days when we used to tuck the family automobile away for the winter? The idea of driving a car in cold weather was something to make us stand aghast. Very often we locked the machine up in a garage to hibernate all through the cold or icy weather.

Machines are now built to withstand the rigors of extreme cold weather, provided we take care of them. Winter driving, without question is hard on any type of gasoline motor-driven vehicle. We who drive should realize this fact and treat our automobiles accordingly.

We should see that proper oil and proper lubricants are put into our machines. We should see that chains are used on slippery, icy, and snowy roads.

Treat the old car as you would treat an old friend. You will get back in service just what you give in care and consideration.

Many a youngster who would not think of stealing a ride on the tailboard of a truck will hitch his sled to a car in order to enjoy a thrilling free ride. That's one of the winter hazards drivers must think about during the next month or two.

It is a great temptation to be big-hearted and let the kids have their fun, but think what it means when you suddenly decide to turn a corner and the sled on which the youngsters are riding sideswipes another car going in the opposite direction. Serious injury or death may be the result.

If you really love children you will discourage this practice. Make it a habit to look back now and then to see that you haven't picked up a couple of joy riders.

Children are care-free, ambitious, and daring. You must protect them.

FORD MOTOR CO. REPORTS BIG SALES

Sales of Lincoln-Zephyr automobiles in the Dearborn branch territory of the Ford Motor Company for the two-month period from October 1 to December 1 equal 45 percent of the total number sold in the first nine months of the year, it was announced today at the branch offices.

This brisk sales record is in keeping with the announcement of the Ford Motor Company that November sales of Lincoln-Zephyrs totaled the largest month's volume since the new car made its debut more than a year ago. October sales were the second largest month's volume in the car's brief history.

Wide acceptance of the 1937 Zephyr line is reflected in the Dearborn branch sales to date compared to sales for the first nine months of the year.

Detroit sales in October and November were almost 50 percent of the previous nine months' total. Toledo, Ohio Zephyr sales virtually equalled the nine-month total during the past two months. Lansing reported sales equivalent to the preceding nine-month total.

Lincoln-Zephyr production is now being stepped up as rapidly as possible, but the factory thus far has been unable to reduce the bank of wholesale and retail orders on hand. The Lincoln factory is now completing a year of continuous employment as a result of the increased business.

Production plans on the Zephyr line call for maintaining a heavy schedule through January. Thereafter it is expected that production will have to be stepped up still further to care for increased spring business.

DON'T BURN CHRISTMAS TREE

Don't burn a Christmas tree. This suggestion comes from conservation authorities who say that every Christmas tree is a potential feeding station for game and song birds.

By placing the tree in the yard, the butt stuck in snow or in the ground, sportsmen may use it as a place to hang suet or food scraps from the house for game and songbirds. Christmas trees used in that way may help many birds through the winter months.

The lesson was given by local leaders, Mrs. Matt Bidvia and Mrs. Joseph Kernosky. The lesson was color and line, which proved very interesting.

Roll call found seven members and one guest present, Mrs. Herbert Parker. The next meeting will be a social meeting which will be at the home of Mrs. Matt Bidvia. The date is undecided.

What The Elderly Man Can Do To Protect The Heart

Angina Pectoris is increasing among men in the fifties and sixties and, since it is eventually a fatal disease, methods of prevention should be well understood. It is impossible to predict 10 years in advance who will have this heart condition but there are a number of factors, such as obesity, the excessive use of tobacco, and local areas of infection which in some cases seem to be predisposing causes.

As a rule, the elderly patient having a chest pain as the result of heart disease should be informed of its cause by the physician. He must be restricted along certain lines and often a revision in the living habits cannot be secured without the patient's knowledge of the necessity for the change.

Unaccustomed or violent exertion may bring on a heart attack in those susceptible to this condition. It is the most common cause for a fatal termination. Exertion from changing a tire, carrying heavy bundles, gunning or rowing may be sufficient to one accustomed to manual labor these are not violent exertions. In a recently reported series of 100 cases of angina pectoris, 13 fatal cases occurred in physicians. Eleven of these were due to exertion incident to, or following a vacation. Unusual departure from ordinary routine by elderly people always is attended by some risk and almost always is preventable.

A long journey frequently leads to disease, since a number of exigencies occur, including overeating, irregular hours and unnecessary excitement. Travel, in general, is to be avoided by those with angina pectoris. Sometimes the excitement of foot ball games or other contests associated with emotional stress has caused an unfavorable reaction. Alcoholic excess, gorging of food and loss of sleep constitute a strain on the heart in elderly people.

These precautions are applicable particularly to the cases in question, but they may be followed with advantage by all elderly people. Moderation is the price of a comfortable old age. It will be seen from this short list of "don'ts" that it is essential to live and act moderately. The belief that patients cannot be happy unless doing what they like best is not an excuse. Satisfaction can be derived from intellectual pursuits or hobbies, and ingenuity in devising such activities stimulates interest.

TREATMENT OF FROST BITE

True it is that no matter how firmly we believe in a thing sooner or later someone comes along to disillusion us. After having rubbed snow on frost bitten areas for years a medical association now reports it to be the worst possible treatment for such afflictions. It is condemned because the snow is likely to be dirty and contain germs and grit which will irritate the sensitive parts. Strangest of all, the treatment recommended is heat and wool wrappings.

The old saying that "like cures like" has gone—gone with the wind, and we'd better watch the winter blasts for that feeling of numbness in hands, feet or face. If we become stricken we should hurry home for the hot water bottle and a wool blanket.

LITTLE STORIES
FOR BEDTIMEby Thornton W.
Burgess

THE DANGER SIGNAL

THERE was a great deal of uneasiness in the big barn where the Robber Rats lived. Would Billy Mink return, or had he just made a chance visit and gone somewhere else? The gray old leader of the rats felt sure that Billy would return. He was too anxious to eat, and, you know, when a rat's appetite fails he must be very much disturbed indeed.

But the younger rats thought the gray old leader needlessly frightened, and they went about their business of stealing food and gnawing holes wherever there seemed a chance of finding a new food supply, just as if nothing had happened. However, each hole which led into the barn was continually watched by sharp eyes. Those rats did not intend to be taken by surprise a second time.

"He'll Probably Sleep All Day,"
Thought the Gray Old Leader.

Rats prefer the hours of darkness. They hate the light of day. Perhaps that is because their deeds are deeds of darkness. So, when daylight came most of the rats returned to their beds to sleep. Only underneath the barn where it was dark did any of them continue to run about seeking what mischief they might get into.

But the wise, gray old leader saw to it that a watch was kept on each hole just the same as during the night. He didn't think Billy Mink would come in the day time, but he was wise enough to know that Billy Mink is forever doing the unexpected. He suspected that Billy would take great pains not to let the farmer who owned that barn know that he was anywhere about.

"He'll probably sleep all day," thought the gray old leader, "but just as soon as it begins to get dark he'll be back here. I just feel it in my bones."

But it wasn't dark when there suddenly sounded the danger signal from one of the watchers. In fact, it was broad daylight, the very middle of the day. You see, daylight and darkness are all one to Billy Mink. He sleeps whenever he feels sleepy regardless of whether it be night or day. At all other times he is very wide awake indeed. It happened that Billy had wakened just about noon that day and as is usual with him after a nap he was hungry.

If he had been a rat instead of a mink he might have remained under the woodpile until darkness came. But Billy is very sure of his ability to take care of himself. He first made sure that no one was about. Then he slipped out from under that pile of wood, and a minute later he was under the barn. Then it was that the danger signal was sounded by the rat who was watching the hole through which Billy entered. It was at once passed on from rat to rat until every one in the barn knew that their enemy had returned.

Calls Workers to the Cane Fields

For a century and a half this ancient bell has summoned workers to the sugar cane fields of St. Croix, Virgin Islands. Once an unhappy signal to the ears of slaves, it now sounds the starting, dinner and quitting hours for the native employees of one of the government-owned Virgin Islands company's sugar estates.

Largest Bible That Was Ever Made

Louis Waynal, a Los Angeles carpenter, recently completed what is said to be the largest Bible in the world. Using a hand stamping machine which he constructed himself, he stamped into the three-foot pages of the book every separate letter, symbol and punctuation mark in the Bible, using as a pattern his own family book. The pages of the book, of which there are 8,048, are bound with metal and weigh 1,094 pounds. A comparative size of the Bible is obtainable in this photograph of Waynal, showing it to some children.

SCHOOL NEWS

GRAYLING SCHOOL

Friday, January 8, Kankaska high school's basketball enthusiasts will invade the fair of the Northern Lights, hoping to make it two straight wins, having defeated the local hoopers earlier in the season by the slim margin of one point.

At Kankaska it was a nip and tuck affair from start to finish, Grayling holding the lead with five minutes to go. But the local stars dropped that lead and lost to the tune of 19-14.

Friday night, the Green and White will be trying to even up the count and win the support of the local fans they should be able to give the Kankaskians a real fight.

This And That About Your School Houses

Did You Know—

[That about ninety half pints of milk are delivered daily to the two schools?]

[That the South Side school has an enrollment of sixty-two in grades below the fourth?]

[That the new fire escape from the balcony of the gym will greatly improve safety in use of the gym?]

[That free text books are provided in all grades to the ninth, and that they may be obtained in the upper four grades?]

[That 184 books were added to the school library last year?]

[That the manual training department is to have new quarters when the work is done on the new rooms?]

[That there was a manual training department reaching five of the upper six grades?]

[That the toy repair project before Christmas was carried on in the South Side school?]

[That hot lunches will be served in the Home Economics rooms again this winter?]

[That the boys' Home Economics class even tried their hands at pie-making?]

[That tests of mental ability will be given, as well as the U. of M. psychological tests, the Haggerty-Olsen-Wickman behavior rating scale, and tests for vocational guidance?]

[That there are 27 Seniors this year and also 27 Juniors?]

[That the ninth grade numbers 50?]

[That a teacher is on duty each day through the noon hour?]

FREDERIC SCHOOL

Now that the holiday vacation is over and school is resumed again, we are glad to be back at school. We are sorry all could not come the first few days, but it seems vacation was too much for them in one way or another.

On Friday night, Jan. 8, Houghton Lake's first and second teams play at Frederic. The boys have hopes of evening up the score by winning to balance the defeat meted out to them on the visitors' own floor. It promises to be a good game at all events, so remember the first game starts at 7:30, and bring your friends and come. These games are both league games and mean quite a bit to the local teams.

We were sorry to learn of the accident in which Elnora Barber received a fractured leg. No one seemed to have heard of it until school called Monday morning. Bernad Feldhauser also has a sore leg when he cut it slightly while sawing wood during vacation and infection has set into it.

James Cram's parents have moved to Detroit so he has left school. We are sorry to lose him; especially some of the girls.

It seems "Skipper" has a new protector now. If he happens to be absent from the room a few moments, a certain senior girl seems worried about where he might be, and if anyone says anything about him, look out.

We are sorry Christmas is over as we are going to miss the occasional piece of candy we were able to coax from the home economics girls. We are, however, looking forward to the time when they get to making pies.

Recreation Notes

During the month of December a program of toy collection and repair was carried out by the Recreation division of the W.P.A. This program was made possible by the wholehearted cooperation of Mr. Schumann who gave us plenty of space for publicity in collection; Mr. Poor and other members of the school who did their part in giving us a place to work and also in making announcements to the pupils who donated most of the toys; Mrs. Gorman for her help in the collection and delivery; several of the local business men who each donated 25 cents to help in the purchase of materials for repair.

A general list of toys repaired is as follows: Games, 21; books, 3; wheeled toys, 40; dolls, 20; toys, 50; Others, 6. Most of the toys repaired were turned over to the Campfire Girls under the leadership of Mrs. Flory, and were distributed to the children by them at their Christmas party; the rest of them were given out to special cases.

The repair work was carried out by some of the young men who are working on the National Youth Administration Program and were under the leadership and supervision of A. G. Clough, Recreation leader. This work was done in the basement of the South Side school.

What
S. Cobb
Thinks about

SANTA MONICA, CALIF.—

S Out here the new Authors' club is functioning nicely and abounds in surprises. For instance, at one of our luncheons, the following types were observed:

An Armenian, he being the only Armenian I ever met that didn't try to sell me a rug.

A visitor from Aberdeen who not only bought for himself but wanted to buy copiously for others.

A native writer who declined to talk about his own works.

A British writer in the same admirable fix.

A radio comedian who did not discuss his nationally important feud with some other radio comedian—probably saving that stuff for his regular broadcasts.

A house committee chairman who neither bragged nor apologized.

If we can only maintain this average, the Authors' club will become the most unusual organization on earth.

"Made in Japan."

A HIGHLY patriotic function there was a tiny American flag at each place, and on mine I found, in very small print, "Made in Japan."

And it is officially stated that at least three out of four of the totem poles sold to tourists in Alaska as authentic relics of the aborigines come also from the orient.

It, as and when we get to heaven, I wonder how many of the angels we're going to find running around wearing the label, "Made in Japan?"

Collegiate Cosmetics.

THE students' newspaper of the University of Wisconsin has made a scientific study of the subject and announces that the average coed (female type) uses enough lipstick in one year to paint four barns. That sounds like an exaggeration, or may be mouths are running longer and barns are running smaller. But the barns do look better for being painted.

Movie Family Parties.

M ONTHS after a moving picture studio has changed hands or undergone an upheaval—such earthquakes being quite frequent—the new bosses sometimes are still finding, tucked snugly away in the payroll, relatives by blood or marriage of the ousted bosses. To you, reader, a new production may be either an epic or a flop, but out here it's often just a pleasant family party, extending even unto the third generation.

In other words, Hollywood has added a new line to the old spiritual, as follows:

"All Gawd's chillen got kintfolks!"

An Anti-War Prescription

IF SENATOR HIRAM JOHNSON of California had never done any other statesmanlike thing—and he's done many a one during his long service in Washington—this country would owe him a debt of gratitude for that act which he put through congress providing that America can lend no more moneys to any foreign government still in default for sums previously borrowed from us.

Can any sane man doubt that certain European powers, now heavily in debt to us, would not be at one another's throats if they were assured of financial backing by Uncle Sam for their fighting. In other words, they'd love to enjoy another world war so long as they didn't have to pay for it. But once in awhile, even a born sucker takes the cure, provided there's a Hiram Johnson to write the prescription.

Teacher's Treat

As schools all over the world break upon St. Thomas' day, it is a great occasion for children. In Denmark it is customary to allow children to do almost as they like, and near Antwerp they rise early, run to school, and lock the master out till he promises to treat them. In other parts of Belgium, parents, servants, and schoolmasters are locked out, the teacher being chained to the nearest inn where he is forced to pay for cakes and punch. In Germany, St. Thomas' day is a great day for forecasting the future. Thousands of young women visit astrologers, palmists, and clairvoyants, to learn what the coming year has in store. In Westphalia they eat and drink to capacity as a sign that they hope to escape scarcity within the next twelve months.—Tit-Bits Magazine.

HATCHERY SUPERINTENDENTS TO HAVE SPECIAL COURSE

"School days" will return again for state fish hatchery superintendents during the first week in February. Twelve district hatchery superintendents have been notified by the department of conservation that they are to report at Pigeon River state forest headquarters at that time for a special course in conservation.

This will be the first training term held at the officers' training school for hatchery super-tendents. It will follow special terms during January for park superintendents, regional and district conservation officers and newly-appointed conservation officers.

Instruction will consist of lectures in various phases of conservation.

MAY INCREASE NON-RESIDENT SMALL GAME LICENSE FEE

The state legislature will be asked by the conservation commission to increase the non-resident small-game hunting license fee to $15. Under the present law non-residents from nearby states may obtain a non-resident small-game license for $5. By increasing this fee to $15, Michigan's non-resident small-game hunting license would be comparable in cost to those of most nearby states.

Once a Famous Sacred Monument in Spain

Here is what the famous Sacred Heart monument, familiar to many tourists who have visited Angel hill, Madrid, looks like today. Shattered beyond recognition, what is left of the monument is now in the hands of General Franco's nationalist rebels. Franco's flag is shown on top of the ruin.

Our bank has now completed the first five years of its existence and we desire at this time to express our sincere appreciation to our depositors for the confidence and cooperation extended to us without which we could not have experienced the satisfactory growth reflected in the above statement. We also wish to thank our directors who have served in that capacity without compensation. Thanks are also due our Stockholders' Auditing Committee, composed of Messrs. T. P. Peterson, George N. Olson and Alfred Hanson, who twice annually and likewise without compensation thoroughly and competently have made an audit of the affairs of the bank as required by law. Last but certainly not least, we sincerely thank our stockholders who for the preceding five years have refrained from requesting that dividends be paid on their investment in the Capital Stock of this bank, which has enabled us to build up a surplus amply commensurate with the Capital structure and now affording an adequate safeguard against possible losses.

This whole-hearted cooperation on the part of everyone concerned has enabled us in turn to render banking service to this community during the past five years. Two items alone will illustrate this: 4,263 loans have been made to date amounting to $1,608,894.95, which amount, we believe has directly or indirectly benefitted everyone in this community. Also, we have handled and cleared for our clients during that period checks amounting to $23,104,927.60.

With Best Wishes for the Happiness and Prosperity of all our clients in 1937, we remain

Yours very truly,

Grayling State Savings Bank
